

GENIL AWARD

Award for the IPMU best paper by a young researcher, founded by the “Granada Excellence Network of Innovation Laboratories” (GENIL) project associated to the Campus of International Excellence BioTIC Granada.

GENIL stands for “Granada Excellence Network of Innovation Laboratories”, a research program on the interface between ICT and maths, with the main emphasis on Soft Computing, which is being carried out at the Campus of International Excellence of the University of Granada which aim to design and develop a new academic and scientific environment for teaching, researching and innovation

CIE BioTic
G r a n a d a

The award includes up to 750 euro for travel expenses between the winner’s institution of origin and Granada (Spain), as well as 1,500 euro for collaborating during one month with one of the research groups that participates in GENIL. The research group will be chosen by the winner among the ones affiliated to

- Centro de Investigación en Tecnologías de la Información y las Comunicaciones \(CITIC\) of the UGR

The winner must be under 35 and appear as the first author of the communication. The jury will specially take into account the score given by the Program Committee during the peer review process for the selection of IPMU papers.

The diploma of the prize will be awarded during the gala dinner of IPMU 2012.